Back to (the old) school

Dear ER:

Chris' Miller's suggestion (Letters, ER Dec. 1, 2005) to use Hermosa's old Junior High School (now the Community Center) rather than build a new gym, classrooms and library at the Hermosa Valley School site is a great idea. It would save the city a bunch of money and make a lot of Hermosa Valley neighbors happy. Why didn't the School Board think of it?
